Keywords : Speaking, Teaching, Method.

This research paper is intended to describe method in teaching speaking at twelfth grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in The Academic Year 2023/2024. The research problem are (1) What are the method used in teaching speaking for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024. (2) What are the problems faced by teacher in teaching speaking methods for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024.

In this research, the researcher used descriptive qualitative research. The subject of this research were English teacher of SMAN 1 Teras in academic year 2023/2024. The data collected from the observation, interview, and documentation. The data analysed by data reduction , data display and draw conclusion. The researcher used triangulation by sources.

The research findings show that the English teacher used two methods in teaching speaking based on observation. There were discussion and role play. The teacher used those methods to improve students' speaking skill. Based on interview, the teacher 's problem in implementing the methods in teaching speaking. There are low or uneven participant, nothing to say, mother tongue use, and inhibition.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background of Study

One of the objectives of language programs is to develop spoken language skills and aim to integrate spoken and written language. Teaching English at every level of education always involves four skills. These skills are speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Speaking is one of the important skills to be taught. The ability to speak has important uses by people for communicating with others, conveying ideas, opinions, messages, and feelings to others, expressing their thoughts and desires, and socializing to communicate or interact (Burn and Joyce,1997:54-55).

Speaking is a productive aural/oral skill that can be directly and empirically observed (Nunan, 2003:48). Speaking is a medium that can be used for learning many languages, including English. Speaking is not just saying words or sentences with the correct pronunciation. A person can be said to be a good speaker if they manage to convey what is on their mind well and make their listeners understand him.

Sutikno (2009) defines the method as one way of presenting lesson materials carried out by teachers to students in the learning process to achieve a goal. Teaching in English-speaking activities is very important to help overcome students' difficulties in speaking. Methods in speaking can help students improve their fluency and accuracy speaking. Each teacher can apply different method to improve students' speaking skills.

They must make the classroom atmosphere fun and enjoyable to attract students' interest in following the lessons being taught. In addition, teachers must facilitate students in classroom learning such as; through discussions and presentations. After practicing several method the teacher can see how students are progressing in learning. Then it can be concluded whether the learning is successful or unsuccessful in the classroom.

Students problems in speaking class can make a person less able to speak. Pollard (2008:34) said that speaking is one of the most difficult aspects for students to master. The reason why students have problems in speaking is that they lack grammar, lack of self-confidence, motivation, vocabulary, pronunciation and environment. Students lack confidence in speaking English because they are afraid of making mistakes when pronouncing vocabulary and being laughed at. While students' motivation in learning English varies, some students are motivated in learning English because they want to learn English and some students do not learn because English is considered difficult. Finally, the difficulty of students in learning English is influenced by the environment. The lack of practice in speaking English makes them feel embarrassed when speaking English. Meanwhile their school environment uses their mother tongue in daily speaking.

Similar research has been analyzed by Siti (2019) titled “a study of teachers’ methods in teaching speaking skill among the twelfth-grade students of SMK Muhammadiyah 2 Karanganyar in the academic year 2017/2018”. The result of this study showed that there are three teaching methods in teaching speaking used by the English teacher. In this study, the researcher found similarities in using the speaking teaching method. The method used is discussion. The difference is that more methods are used like Communicative Language Teaching (CLT) and Audio Lingual Method.

Liliana (2018) by the title “The techniques of teaching speaking used by the English teacher to the seventh-grade students of SMPIT Insan Cendekia Trucuk Klaten In Academic Year 2019/2020”. In this study, the researcher found similarities in using the speaking teaching method. The method used is Discussion and role play. While the difference is in the identification of the problem, namely the weaknesses and strengths contained in the technique used.

Saidna (2017) by title “Lecturers’ method in teaching speaking at the University of Iqra Buru”. In this study, researchers found a similarity, namely problem identification. The formulation of the problem is the method used by the teacher and the problems faced by the teacher when teaching speaking in the class. While the difference is in the method used. The researcher found that lecturers used four methods. There are grammar-translation methods, audio-lingual methods, communicative approaches, PPP (Presentation, Practice, and Production), and task-based learning.

SMAN 1 Teras is one of the Senior High schools in the streets of Raya Sudimoro Randusari km.2, Dusun I, Sudimoro, Teras district, Boyolali regency, Central Java province. That school is of the good schools in Boyolali. It has many facilities such as a mosque, laboratory computer, laboratory science, UKS, mosque, and other facilities that can support the students in the teaching-learning process. The researcher wants to do the research in SMAN 1 Teras because of some reason. Students have great motivation and interest in learning English. Some of them even confident to speak in front of the class. Meanwhile, the teacher teaches interestingly in the classroom to make students more focused on learning. The method used by the teacher can trigger students' enthusiasm for learning English. Besides that, SMAN 1 Teras managed to get a grand award (4th) in a scientific competition in Los Angeles USA in 2017. This school has two kinds of classes. There are natural science major and social science major classes. In this research, the researcher only focuses on the eleventh grade.

Based on the pre-research that was held on September 27th, 2022, the researcher found that the teacher used a different method to teach speaking especially in twelfth grade. The teacher used some methods to teach speaking such as role play and discussion. For the discussion method, the teacher uses a conditional sentence in the material. The teacher divide the class into several groups. The teacher categorize students into low, medium, and high. In one group there are one or two children who are considered superior so that they can guide their friends. This is done to run well. The results presented to other groups in the class. The results of the group are then explored and responded to so that an active and dynamic learning process occurs. As for role play, the teacher uses a procedures text in the material. The teacher provide video-based learning. The selection of this video-based role-play method is believed to be able to create a pleasant learning atmosphere that will increase student learning activities. Then students make a dialogue and practice in front of the class.

By that pre-research, the researcher would like to do research entitled “An Analysis of Teacher Method in Teaching Speaking at Twelfth Grade Students of SMAN 1 Teras In Academic Year 2023/2024”

B. Identification of the Problem

Before starting the research, the main thing the researcher does is identify the problem so that the researcher knows that the problem are experienced by the students. In this study, researcher finds several identification problem. That is :

1. Students lack the vocabulary because of limited vocabulary
2. Students lack confident to speak English because they are afraid of making mistakes when pronouncing vocabulary and being laughed at.
3. Students have different levels of speaking
4. Methods that can be used by a teacher

C. Problem Limitation

Based on the problem identification the researcher focused on the teacher's method and the problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking method of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024.

D. Problem Statement

Based on the background statement above, the researcher can be formulated the problem as follows :

1. What are the methods used in teaching speaking for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024?
2. What are the problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking methods for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024?

E. Objective of Study

The Objectives of the research intended :

1. To describe the kinds of method used by the teacher in teaching speaking for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024
2. To describe the problem faced by the teacher in teaching speaking for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024

F. Benefit of The Study

1. Theoretical benefit.

- a. To improve knowledge for either teachers or students, the researcher hopes that this research will give a contribution to the development of education.
- b. The finding of this research will give good information related to the teacher's method of teaching speaking.

2. Practical benefit

a. To students

The result of this study can be used as additional knowledge to improve the ability to speak in the learning speaking process. And the students can speak more effectively after they applied the method.

b. To Teacher

The result of this study can be used as additional information in teaching speaking to students.

c. To Other Researchers

The result of this study can be used as a reference for those who want to research the English teaching-learning process.

G. Definition of Key Term

The researcher defines the keywords below:

1. Speaking

Speaking is an interactive process of constructing meaning that involves producing, receiving, and processing information (Nunan,1999:216).

2. Teaching

Teaching is helping or showing someone to learn how to do something, giving instructions, guiding them in learning something, and imparting knowledge, thus causing understanding (Brown, 2007: 7)

3. Method

A method is the practical realization of an approach. Methods include various procedures and techniques as parts of their standard fare (Harmer, 1998: 78).

CHAPTER II

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

A. Theoretical Review

1. Speaking

a. Definition of Speaking

There are many definitions of speaking that have been proposed by some experts. Nunan (1999:216) said that speaking is an interactive process of constructing meaning that involves producing, receiving, and processing information. It means that speaking is used as a reference for a person's ability to communicate. Speaking not only produces sound but is used to share our information with others by using language that is easy to understand.

Speaking is one of the most important and essential skills that must be practiced to communicate orally (Casilli,2013). It means that speaking is one of the most important skills for communicating with other people. Talking well will help us to understand each other. Good speaking skills can build good relationships with friends, teachers, or colleagues and open career opportunities.

Mackey (2007: 3) defines speaking as an oral expression that does not only involve the use of appropriate rhythms and intonation patterns. But also use the correct order to convey the correct meaning. It means that in speaking, people must have the ability to use the words in the right order with the correct pronunciation, design the correct grammar for utterance, and choose diction or word choice.

Based on the definition above, it concluded that speaking is one of the important basic skills that must be mastered by students. Because speaking is a skill needed in everyday life to communicate easily and effectively. Speaking not only makes sounds but also has to use the right rhythm and intonation. This is done so that when talking to other people can be understood easily.

b. Component of Speaking Skills

Syakur (1987:3), there are five components to speaking. There are pronunciation, grammar, vocabulary, fluency, and comprehension.

1. Pronunciation

Pronunciation is the way speakers use to produce clear sounds when they are speaking. The speaker must be able to convey a clear message to the listener so that it can be easily understood. In speaking, pronunciation including stress, rhythm, and intonation is very important.

2. Grammar

To communicate, both the speaker and the listener need a common understanding of what word combinations mean. Understanding the meaning and how words are used is grammatically correct. Improving grammatical understanding can help learners become better speakers.

3. Vocabulary

To be able to speak fluently and precisely, speakers must master sufficient vocabulary. Vocabulary is very important because learning vocabulary is the main capital to learning sentence structure and other language skills. Mastering a lot of vocabulary will make it easier for someone to read, write, listen and speak English.

4. Fluency

Fluency is the ability to read, speak, or write easily and fluently. the speaker can read, understand and respond to the language clearly while connecting meaning and context. Fluency can be defined as the ability to speak fluently and accurately. Signs of fluency can be seen from a fairly fast speaking speed and only a few pauses and "ums" or "er". This shows that the speaker did not spend much time looking for the language needed to convey the message. So it can be concluded that fluency means the ability someone speaks fluently and accurately with minimal use of pauses such "ums" and "er".

5. Comprehension

The last component of speaking is comprehension. Comprehension is a person's ability to understand something and after that, it is known and remembered. It means that understanding something we are learning is very important because that way we are easy to learn if we can capture the essence of the lesson being studied. So comprehension has a big role in learning.

c. Types of Speaking

There are many types of classroom speaking performance that can be applied by teachers. Brown (2001:271) defines that there are five basic types of speaking. They are Imitative, Intensive, Responsive, Interactive, and Extensive.

1. Imitative

Imitative speaking is the ability to repeat a word, phrase, or sentence. At this level, students will repeat what the teacher understandably told them. The goal is to reproduce what they are saying. An example is "repeat after me"

2. Intensive

Intensive speaking is designed for more than imitation. These competencies are designed to practice some of the phonological or grammatical aspects of language. Such as giving a direct response to a simple statement or reading a paragraph aloud.

3. Responsive

Responsive speaking is an interaction that occurs in short conversations. Responsive is a bit more complex than intensive. Responsive tasks include interaction on a limited level such as short conversations, small talk, simple comments, and requests. This dialog includes simple questions with one or two follow-up questions.

4. Interactive

The difference between responsive and interactive lies in the number of participants and the length of the conversation. The unique feature of interactive is that it is interpersonal rather than transactional. Transactional speaking is to sharing information as is common at the responsive level. Meanwhile, interpersonal speaking is used to maintain relationships. The challenge when speaking interpersonally is that the speaker must remember the use of humor, and slang when trying to communicate.

5. Extensive

Extensive speaking is oral products such as presentations, oral reports, speaking, and storytelling. In this case, it does not include improvised communication because it requires a lot of preparation. From the above explanation that to speak, there are several levels to classify narratives. They have to go through several levels to become a good and fluent speaker.

In the speaking type class used is interactive. Because the method used is discussion where students take action with each other so that they have an active reciprocal relationship between people who communicate.

d. Problem in speaking

Speaking is the most important part of English. However, the problem that often arises is that many students find it difficult to speak English. Ur (1996:121), there are some problem access in teaching speaking :

1. Inhibition

Speaking is different from writing, reading, and listening activities. Because speaking requires a real-time level of exposure to the audience. Students are often inhibited from trying to say something in English. These barriers are shyness, fear of criticism, and fear of making mistakes to attract attention when they speak.

2. Nothing to say

Learners complain that they can't explain anything to say, they have no motive to express themselves.

3. Low or uneven participant

In one group Only one participant can speak at one time. this means that each has little time to talk. This problem is exacerbated by the tendency of some students to dominate, while others speak very or not at all.

4. Mother-tongue use

In classrooms where all, or some, learners use the same mother tongue, they are more likely to use it. Because it's easier to be "exposed" and feel unnatural to speak in a foreign language.

e. Characteristics of a Successful Speaking

Ur (1996:120) defines that success in speaking depends on many factors. The following factors lead to the success of speaking to students:

a. Maximum Foreign Talk

If students want to be successful in speaking English, students must often speak English a lot. The problem that often occurs is that the teacher talks too much in the classroom, thereby reducing student practice time. Another problem is that students often use their mother tongue instead of English

b. Even Participation

The teacher should give equal opportunity to every student to show their ability. Each student should be encouraged to speak as much as possible. So that outspoken students do not dominate the discussion. It is expected that all students have the opportunity to actively speak. In this case, the teacher can intervene to ensure equal opportunities for every student.

c. High Motivation

Motivation is a set of attitudes and values that influence individuals to achieve certain things according to individual goals. Teachers can do something to maintain and increase motivation in students. If students realize that the topic is interesting or has a goal to be achieved, students will be enthusiastic to speak. But sometimes if the teacher gives a task that is too easy, students may consider it childish so they lose interest in learning.

d. Right Language Level

The teacher must design the level of language that will be given in the learning process. In speaking, the language used must be at the right level. If students lack too many words, they will become frustrated and give up. assured him they would return to their mother tongue

2. Teaching

A. Definition Teaching

Brown (2000:10) defines teaching as helping someone to learn how to do something, giving instructions, guiding them in learning something, and providing knowledge, thus causing someone to understand something. Edmund Amidon (1967) defines teaching as an interactive process involving the classroom conversations that occur between teachers and students who occur during a specified activity. Brown further explained that teaching cannot be defined apart from learning. Based on Brown (2000:7) teaching is guiding and facilitating learning for learners to learn. Teachers will understand how students learn so that they can determine the philosophy, teacher approach, methods, and teaching in the classroom.

The researcher concludes that teaching is a condition where the teacher can help students to be able to do something by providing instructions and knowledge. In the classroom, the teacher can convey knowledge, motivate students, and provide clear information. It is hoped that teachers can understand how students learn so that they can provide the right approach and method. So that students can understand the material and be able to develop their knowledge, skills, and competencies.

B. Teaching Process

In the teaching learning process, there are some terms that have similar meaning even though basically they are different. The terms are approach, strategy, method, and technique.

1. Approach

Approach is a set of assumptions related to the nature of language, learning and teaching (Edward: 17). There are several kinds of approaches to teaching learning process :

A. Teacher-centred approach

The teacher acts as a resource person who has a very dominant position. Learning in this approach is an attempt to receive information from the teacher. This approach will produce what is called a teaching-learning strategy teacher center strategy, a centered teaching and learning strategy on the teacher.

B. A materials-centred approach

Another opinion arises from the thought that learning is an effort to master information. In this connection, teaching-learning strategies focused on subject matter. This kind of approach pays off material center strategy, namely the teaching-learning strategy material centered.

C. Student-centered approach

Another approach comes from the definition of teaching as efforts to create systems that optimize the learning environment. That center in the teaching and learning process is the student. This approach produces student center strategies, teaching and learning strategies centered on the students.

The researcher concludes that the approach is the first step in doing teaching activities. In the approach, there are general descriptions of the teaching-learning process. There are some approaches to teaching those are teacher centered approach, student-centered approach and material-centered approach.

2. Strategy

To improve students' speaking ability, the teacher has a deep strategy speaking teaching. J.R. David (1976) cited in Ibad (2015:13) states that strategy is a plan, method, or series of activities designed to achieve certain educational goals. So, a teaching strategy can be interpreted as a plan that contains a series of activities designed to achieve certain educational goals.

Strategy design for reach a certain goal, then the direction of all decisions is the attainment of the strategy thereby preparing the learning steps, the use of various facilities and learning resources are all directed in an effort to achieve the goal. Therefore it is necessary to formulate clear objectives, which can be measured success, because the main objective is the basis for the implementation of a strategy. An English teacher has a specific strategy to improve students' speaking skills.

3. Method

Method is the overall plan for the systematic presentation of lessons based on the selected approach. It implies an orderly arrangement of logical steps. It is more procedural. Anthony cited in Brown (2000), the method is described as an overall plan for presenting language systematically based on the chosen approach. This explanation explains that the method is the implementation of the chosen approach. This explanation illustrates that the method is a way of teaching used by teachers based on certain strategies.

Based on this explanation, it can be concluded that the method can be interpreted as the method used by the teacher to achieve teaching and learning objectives. Method is a way of implementing or carrying out teaching strategies or teaching approaches.

4. Technique

According to Anthony in Brown (2000) technique is certain activities realized in class are consistent with the method and therefore aligned with the approach as well. It can be concluded that technique is a more specific way that is used by teachers to conduct classroom activities.

3. Teaching Speaking

a. Definition of Teaching Speaking

Learning English is a different matter for most students in Indonesia. Learning a foreign language means studying the dictionary, grammar, and sound system of that language. In addition to focusing on language forms, you must also develop skills in real communication. Students must be able to communicate in English effectively both inside and outside the classroom.

Teaching speaking is a way for students to express their emotions, and communicative needs, interact with others in every situation and influence others. Therefore, in teaching speaking skills, it is necessary to have a clear understanding related to speaking. Teaching speaking means teaching how to use language for communication, and to transfer ideas, thoughts, or even feelings to others.

Teaching speaking is not easy, because English is not the mother tongue in Indonesia. Usually, students only speak English during class time. Due to the environment, they speak no English. This means that the opportunity to practice will not be enough. Several strategies should be tried to help students practice speaking in the target language (Nunan, 2003:64).

b. Aim of Teaching Speaking

The main object of speaking is to promote students to learn to speak in English. In my belief, the teacher should create a classroom environment to make the students enjoy learning then they have much motivation to speak English. Based on the definition, the objective of teaching speaking according to Nunan (2003:236) is to teach learners to:

1. Produce the English speech sound and sound patterns.
2. Use word and sentence stress, intonation patterns, and the rhythm of the sound language.
3. Select appropriate words and sentences according to the proper social subject matter
4. Organize their thought in a meaningful and logical sequence
5. Use language as a means of expressing values and judgments
6. Use the language quickly and confidently with few unnatural pauses, which is called fluency.

Based on the assumption above, it can conclude that teaching speaking is the way to express speaking emotion and communicative needs. Interact with another person in any situation, and influence the other.

c. Principle of Teaching Speaking

In implementing the teaching process, the teacher should pay attention to the skills of students which are developed. According to Nunan (2003:55), there are 4 principles for teaching speaking

1. Give students practice with both fluency and accuracy

Accuracy is the degree to which students' speech is similar to what other people say. Fluency is the degree to which the smooth flow with which sounds, syllables, words, and others combine when speaking. Teachers should give students practice by building fluency. So realize that making mistakes is a natural part of learning a new language.

2. Provide opportunities for students to speak using group work or pair work and limit the teacher's conversation.

Teachers must realize that allowing students to speak in the classroom is very important. In addition, being able to provide speaking practice to students in pairs or groups will increase the amount of time that students have to speak English during lessons.

3. Plan a speaking task that involves negotiating to mean.

In negotiating meaning the learner will make progress by communicating in the target language because interaction must involve efforts to understand and make the teacher understand. So in this case it will involve whether the teacher has understood what the learner has said, clarifying and making sure someone understands.

4. Design class activities that involve guidance and practice in transactional and interactional speaking.

When we talk to someone outside of class, we usually do so for interactional or transactional purposes. Interactional speech is communicating with someone for social purposes. Transactional speech involves communication to get something done, including the exchange of goods or services.

Based on the description above, teaching speaking is a process in which students can express their emotions, and their communicative needs, interact with other people in situations, and influence others. For that in teaching speaking skills or need to understand an easy understanding of speaking.

d. Micro and Macro Skills in Speaking

In teaching speaking, the teacher must know some micro and macro speaking skills. This is useful for teachers to determine the competencies that must be achieved by students. In teaching speaking the teacher must help students to see the language as a whole as well as the small parts of the language. According to Brown (2007), he states that there are several micro and macro speaking skills:

a. Micro skills of speaking

Some micro-skills of speaking, are:

- 1) Produce chunks of the language of different lengths.
- 2) Orally produce differences among the English phonemes and allophonic variants.
- 3) Produce English stress patterns, words in stressed and unstressed positions, rhythmic structure, and intonation contours.
- 4) Produce reduced forms of words and phrases.
- 5) Use an adequate number of lexical words (units) to accomplish pragmatic purposes.
- 6) Produce fluent speech at different rates of delivery
- 7) Monitor your oral production and use various strategic devices pauses, fillers, self-corrections, and backtracking to enhance the clarity of the message.
- 8) Use grammatical word classes (nouns, verbs, etc.), systems (e.g., tense, agreement, and pluralization), word order, patterns, rules, and syntactic forms.
- 9) Produce speech in natural constituents-in appropriate phrases, pause groups, breath groups, and sentences.
- 10) Express a particular meaning in different grammatical forms

11) Use cohesive devices in spoken discourse.

b. Macro skills of speaking

1) Accomplish appropriately communicative functions according to situations, participants, and goals.

2) Use appropriate registers, implicate, pragmatic conventions, and other sociolinguistic features in the face to face conversations.

3) Convey links and connections between events and communicate such relations as the main idea, supporting the idea, new formation, given information, generalization, and exemplification.

4) Use facial features, kinesics, body language, and other non-verbal cues along with verbal language to convey meanings.

5) Develop and use a battery of speaking strategies such as emphasizing keywords, rephrasing, providing a context for interpreting the meaning of words, appealing for help, and accurately assessing how well your interlocutor is understanding you.

Those speaking elements help to guide the teacher in teaching English. The teacher should decide what micro or macro skill students should acquire.

4. Method

a. Definition of Method

Harmer (1998: 78), defines the method as a general set of specifications in the classroom to achieve linguistic goals. The attention of the method lies in the participation of teacher and student behavior. Sudjana (2005:76) defines the method as a method used by teachers to establish relationships with students when teaching.

Sutikno (2009:88) states that the method is a way of teaching carried out by teachers with students so that the learning process can be carried out as an effort to achieve goals. According to Richards and Rodgers (2001:245), stating that speaking skills can be learned through training and the role of the teacher by following the method and applying it appropriately.

Based on the explanations above, it is explained that the method is a way of teaching used by teachers based on certain strategies. It is expected that students can more easily accept and understand learning. In addition, it can be concluded that the method can be interpreted as a method used by teachers to achieve teaching and learning objectives by applying certain learning strategies.

b. Kinds of Methods in for Teaching Speaking Skills

Brown (2001:14) defines the method as one of the various exercises, activities, and tasks used in the classroom to achieve a learning goal. Success in speaking skills depends on the method applied by the teacher. According to Hayriye Kayi in her article in Teaching English as a Second Language (TESL) Journal that there are twelve methods to promote speaking in real communication, they are :

a. Discussion

1. Definition of Discussion

A discussion is several people consisting of more than two people who interact with each other. Discussion as an activity where a group of people talks to each other to share information about a topic and possibly find solutions. This activity aims to make the students able to work in a team and improving their skills. Group discussion composed of three to five students discussion in effective activity in improving the students ability.

2. Procedures of Discussion

MetCrorie (2006:4) states that the discussion procedure is as follows:

- a. Setting teaching and learning objectives
- b. Determine the problem to be discussed
- c. Considering the characteristics of students

- d. Preparation of discussion framework, problems, and time
- e. Facilitate discussion, and materials, and prepare the required equipment.
- f. Starting teaching and learning objectives
- g. Starting the topic of discussion
- h. Explaining the procedure
- i. Divide the discussion group
- j. Having a discussion
- k. Provide opportunities for students to present the results of the discussion
- l. Allow students to answer
- m. Giving feedback
- n. Summarizing the results of the discussion

3. Advantage of Discussion

According to Harmer (2004:117) the discussion has the following advantages:

- a. Increase the number of speaking for each student
- b. Encouraging broader collaboration and negotiation skills among learners
- c. Allows students to make their own decisions in groups without being told what to do by the teacher

4. Disadvantage of Discussion

According to Harmer (2004:117) the discussion has the following weaknesses:

- a. May be noisy
- b. Not all students enjoy it because they prefer to be the center of attention of the teacher than working with their friends.
- c. One member of the group can dominate the discussion.

b. Role Play

1. Definition of Role Play

Role play is an action taken by someone by imitating someone's character and behavior intentionally, for example by way of practice or without realizing it. In this case, students will pretend to act like other people in the real world. This serves to develop speaking skills.

According to Dananjaya (2013), role play is an activity in the learning process which students should not worry about. because in this study, real situations will be created. This learning is different from the drama because the duration is very short. The teacher will give a short scenario and the student will change or improve the situation and character.

2. Procedures of Role Play

According to Huang (2008), there are six major steps procedure of role play :

- a. Decide teaching materials. The teacher has to decide on teaching materials that will be used for role-play activities.
- b. Choose a situation and create a dialogue. For each situation in role-playing, the teacher must provide teaching materials that can be made by the student himself.
- c. Teach dialogue for role play. Teachers should teach vocabulary, sentences, and dialogues needed for role-playing. The teacher must ensure that students know how to use vocabulary, sentences, and dialogue before performing the role.
- d. Have students practice role-playing. In practice, students can practice in pairs or small groups. After they play their role several times, ask them to switch roles.
- e. Ask students to modify the situation and dialogue. After students have finished and become familiar with the original role-play situation, students can change the dialogue situation to make variations of the original role-play.

f. Evaluate and check students' understanding. Teachers must evaluate the effectiveness of the role and check whether students have succeeded in understanding the meaning of vocabulary, sentences, and dialogue. Students can be given oral tests related to role play. Students can be asked to answer some simple questions related to role drama or students are asked to act in role play.

3. Advantage of Role Play

Wehrli and Nyquist (2003) state that there are several benefits to using role-playing activities in the classroom. There are the following:

- a. Students will be actively involved because they have to work in groups.
- b. Role playing adds variety, reality, and specificity to the learning experience.
- c. Through this method can develop problem-solving and verbal expression skills.
- d. Provide practice to build skills in learners before real-world application and when real experience is not available.
- e. Allows students to experiment in a safe environment with behaviors that are not.

- f. Provides an entirely new perspective on a situation and develops insight into feelings and relationships.

4. Disadvantage of Role Play

According to Wehrli and Nyquist, (2003), there are several disadvantages to using role play:

- a. Not all students are confident to speak in front of many people. so they can feel under pressure when it comes to role-playing activities.
- b. Depends on the imagination and willingness of students to participate. Each student has a different motivation to participate in class activities. so some of them are not that enthusiastic and have a strong will to practice.
- c. Lack of focus during role play unless well planned, organized, and monitored. Students will be less focused if they do not prepare role-play activities properly and if the teacher does not monitor the process.
- d. The results may be unpredictable. Even if students have prepared well, there will be unexpected results due to some disadvantages of role-playing activities.
- e. This can be time-consuming as role-playing requires preparation and follow-up work.

c. Simulation

Simulations are very similar to role-playing games. In the simulation, students can bring items to class to create a realistic environment. For example, if a student acts as a singer, he brings a microphone to sing, and so on. Role-playing and simulation games have many advantages. First, because they are entertaining, they motivate students. Second, increase the self-confidence of hesitant students, because, in role play and simulation activities, they will have different roles and do not have to speak for themselves, which means they do not have to assume the same responsibility.

d. Information Gap

In this method, students will work in pairs. Where they will exchange information in completing a lesson. the goal is to solve a problem and gather the required information. This activity can increase classroom interaction between students because of the storage of information that occurs. For students, this information can provide an opportunity to speak during class. As for teachers, information support can help to facilitate students by communicating in real terms. other than that it can be used to practice vocabulary and grammatical structures that have been used.

e. Brain Storming

This method is done by throwing a problem to the students. Then students will answer and provide opinions to allow the problem to develop into a new problem. Because on a topic students can generate ideas within a certain time. Students will be more open to new ideas.

f. Storytelling

Storytelling emphasizes the ability of students to tell stories with style, intonation, and props to make the audience interested. In short, students can summarize a story they have heard or create their own story to tell their classmates. This method can help students in expressing their ideas. For example, at each class session, the teacher can call on students to tell a joke or a short riddle. With this method, the teacher can know the students' speaking ability, but also get the attention of the students

g. Interview

Students can conduct interviews on selected topics with a variety of people. Students can create their questions and the teacher only gives directions to students on what questions they should ask. Conducting interviews with people can provide an opportunity to practice outside speaking skills. In addition, it can help them socialize with the outside environment. After the interview students can present their results in front of the class.

h. Story Completion

For this method, the teacher will tell a story. However, after a few sentences, the teacher will stop telling the story. Then, each student begins to narrate from the point where the previous one stopped. It is expected that students can add to the story by adding new characters and events. This method aims to help students speak spontaneously according to the conditions they face. In addition, this method can help students to be freer in conveying ideas and ideas in speaking.

i. Reporting

Before learning begins students are asked to read a book, magazine, or newspaper. Then students are asked to report to their friends what they think is the most interesting news. In addition, students can also tell theirs about something that has happened in everyday life to their friends.

j. Picture Narrating

Pictures can also be used in learning. One way is to give a picture to students and ask them to explain what is in the picture. This activity, students can do it in groups. They will discuss how the picture is and present it in front of the class. This method can foster Shiva's creativity and imagination in public speaking.

k. Picture Describing

This method requires several consecutive images. Students are asked to tell the story that happened according to the successive pictures. In telling stories, students still pay attention to the criteria given by the teacher as a rubric. The rubric can include the vocabulary needed when they tell stories.

1. Find Differences

In this method, students can work in pairs. The teacher will give two different pictures. In pairs, they discuss the similarities and differences that lie in the pictures.

B. Previous Studies

The researcher would like to show some previous studies to prove the originality of this research. The first research was conducted by Aroyani (2019) “A Study on Teacher’s Methods in Teaching Speaking Skill among the Twelfth Grade Students of SMK Muhammadiyah 2 Karanganyar in Academic Year 2017/2018”. This research aimed to describe the method applied by the teachers in teaching speaking and to describe the problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking skills among the Twelfth-grade students of SMK Muhammadiyah 2 Karanganyar in the Academic Year 2017/2018. The method used by the teacher was discussion, communicative language teaching, and audio-lingual method.

Second, the researcher takes a journal international related to this study which is concerned with speaking skills. The studies are by Saidna and Hanapi (Volume 2,2017) entitled “Lecturers’ Method in Teaching Speaking at the University of Iqra Buru”. This research aimed to reveal what method was applied by lecturers in teaching speaking, how was the method applied in the classroom and how was the students’ perception toward the implementation of the method. The researcher found that the method used in teaching speaking were the grammar translation method, task-based, audio-lingual method, PPP (Presentation, Practice, and Production), and lexical approach.

The third is the previous research conducted by Kasanah (2020) “English Teaching Strategies on Speaking Skill of Tahfidz Class at The Tenth Grade of SMA Al-Azhar Syifa Budi Solo in The Academic year 2019/2020”. The subjects were two English teachers who taught in tenth grade. This research aimed to know the strategies used by the teacher in teaching speaking and to describe the problems faced by the English teacher and the students in speaking class in the tenth grade of Tahfidz class at SMA Al-Azhar Syifa Budi Solo in the academic year 2019/2020. According to the research, the researcher found three strategies used to teach speaking in tenth grade in Tahfidz class at SMA Al-Azhar Syifa Budi Solo. The teacher use role play, discussion, and brainstorming.

The last, the researcher takes a journal related to this study which is concerned with speaking skills. The studies are by Aisyah, Syafrizal, and Dedi (vol.1, number 3,2021) entitled “An Analysis of Teacher’s Strategies in Teaching Speaking”. The objectives of the research were to find out the strategies used by teachers in teaching speaking at SMAN 5 Bengkulu and to describe how the teachers implement the strategies in the teaching process. This research was descriptive qualitative. The subjects were two English teachers who taught at tenth grade. The strategies used were Task Completion, Opinion Sharing, Information Transfer, Reasoning Gap, Questioning, Brainstorming, Scaffolding, and Drilling.

The previous study takes from several sources. So, to make sure the previous study, the researcher wants to show the differences and also the similarity between the previous study and this thesis. Based on the table below:

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

A. Research Design

The researcher uses descriptive qualitative research. Because the researcher described the condition or state of the phenomenon. According to Creswell (2018:41), qualitative research is an approach to exploring and understanding the meaning given by individuals or groups to social or human problems. This qualitative method is a research procedure that will produce descriptive data in written or spoken words from people or observable behavior. Qualitative methods rely on text and image data as well as the uniqueness of the steps in data analysis (Creswell, 2018). Qualitative research refers to data analysis non-mathematical. This procedure produces findings obtained through data collected by various means, including interviews, observations, documents or archives, and tests.

This research conducted is a descriptive study using qualitative research that focuses in the teaching method in teaching speaking. It describes the method used by the teacher and describes the problem faced by the teacher.

B. Research Setting

1. Place of Research

The research carries out at SMAN 1 Teras. SMAN 1 Teras is one of the Senior High schools in the streets of Raya Sudimoro Randusari km.2, Dusun I, Sudimoro, Teras district, Boyolali regency, Central Java province.

2. Time of Research

This research conduct in the academic year 2022 / 2023. This research started in September 2022 until February 2023. Here is the timetable of research.

C. Subject of The Research

The subject of this research is the English teacher of twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023 / 2024. Her name is Mrs.S. She trained her students speaking to get a grand award (4th) an international scientific competition in Los Angeles USA in 2017. She teaches XII IPA 1 and XII IPA 2.

D. Data and Source of The Data

The research data in this study was collected in the form of information about strategies in teaching speaking of twelfth grade in SMAN 1 Teras. The source of data in this research included events, informants, and documents.

1. Event

According to Samsu (2017) events are one source of data that can be used in research on an event that can be seen directly by researchers. The event was in the form of the teacher's method of teaching speaking that occurred in the classroom related to research. The data is in the form of transcripts of the teaching and learning process. The researcher will make observations in the eleventh grade. These events will be observed using video to find out activities during the teaching and learning process.

2. Informant

An informant is considered a person who gives information about something. Related to the study, the informant is the English teacher of SMAN 1 Teras. Her name is Mrs.S. The researcher interviewed the teacher to gain information about the implementation of the speaking teaching-learning process.

3. Document

According to Samsu (2017) what is meant by documents in qualitative research is every ingredient is written or film that can be used as support research evidence. Examples of the documents are some supporting documents in the form of syllabus, lesson plans, and transcripts. attendance list and pictures.

E. Research Instrument

Researcher as human instruments serves to determine the focus of research, select informants as data sources, collect data, assess data quality, analyze data, interpret data and draw conclusions (Sugiyono, 2015). This research is qualitative research with the setting as a direct data source. There are many qualitative research instruments. Instruments are divided into two types: main device and supporting instrument. The main tool in this research is the researcher himself as a planner, collector, and data collector analyzer. In addition, the supporting instruments are gadgets, books, pens, laptops, the internet, dictionaries, etc. This study uses these things as supporting instruments to collect and analyze data.

F. Technique of Collecting Data

Farida (2014:122) states that qualitative data tend to gathered from interviews, observations, and artifacts. The techniques of data collection which used in this research were in the form of observation, interview, and documents analysis.

1. Observation

Farida (2014:122), data collection begins with seeking attention to continuous observation activities, namely observing various kinds of social activities, by opening the eyes and ears to several different places and times in order to obtain much needed information. The data obtained from direct observation are detailed or descriptive data about behavioral activities, the orientation of people's actions, and the possibility of meaningful relationships from interpersonal interactions and structuring processes that are part of the observable human experience.

Observations in the data collection techniques of this study were used to answer the formulation of the problem regarding the methods used by the teacher, and the methods applied by the teacher in teaching speaking skills in twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras. Researchers are here to identify what occurs during the teaching and learning process in the classroom. Such as conditions during the teaching and learning process, student activity, and other things that will become the data for this research.

2. Interview

According to Arikunto (in Farida,2014), the interview is a dialogue conducted by the interviewer to obtain information from the interviewee. This method is used for obtaining data through direct interviews in a guided manner between the author and the person providing information by using an interview list. This interview is used to further explore the data obtained from observations.

The interview here is used by researchers to answer the formulation of research problems about the methods used by teachers and the problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking skills to social sciences major eleventh-grade students at SMAN 1 Teras in the 2023/2024 academic year. The researcher interviewed the English teacher of twelfth grade 3 in SMAN 1 Teras.

To collect the data, the researcher uses the procedure as follows:

- a The researcher prepared the concept of questions that would be asked to the teachers
- b. The researcher asked and talked in a friendly way according to the concept of questions that had been prepared based on the interview guide.
- c.The researcher wrote an interview transcript based on the results of the interview.

No	Question
1.	What method do you use to teach speaking in class?
2.	Why do you use those methods?

3. Documentation

According Samsu (2017), Documentation is looking for data about things or variables in the form of notes, transcripts, books, newspapers, magazines, inscriptions, meeting minutes, agendas, and so on. This documentation method is used to obtain data in the form of notes and other documents related to this research problem. The documents used in this research are syllabi, lesson plans, and others. The lesson plan document answers the research problem about the methods used by teacher in teaching speaking skills.

G. Trustworthiness Data

In analyzing data, the researcher also needed to analyze the validity of the data sources to get valid data. To show the trustworthiness data, the researcher used the triangulation technique. The triangulation technique is the technique of examining the trustworthiness of the data using things outside the data to examine the data and to be compared the data (Moleong, 2002:178).

Moleong (2002:178) divides triangulation into four kinds. They are :

a. Triangulation by using the sources

The researcher will compare and check the credibility of the informants found in the observations with interview data and compare them with related documents.

b. Triangulation by using the methods

The researcher checks the credibility of research data and data sources by using several data collection techniques. In addition, the researcher checked the credibility of the data by analyzing it using the same method.

c. Triangulation by using the theory

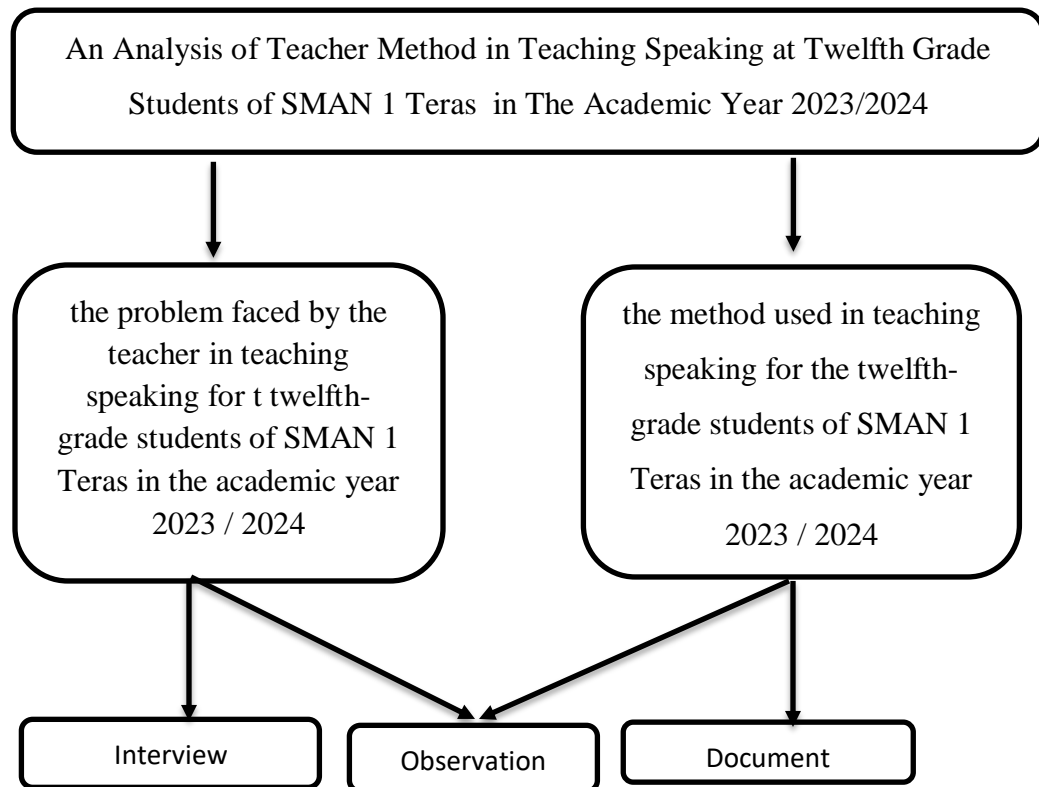

The technique of examining data by looking for standard comparisons from analytical explanations as supporting data to obtain valid evidence from research results.

d. Triangulation by using the investigator

The researcher will recheck the credibility of the data through her research or other research.

In this study, researchers used triangulation by using sources. This means that researchers collect various sources of data to test the validity of the data, which consists of information that can answer research problems from several informants, conditions, activities seen from observations, and content analysis in the intended document. The researcher compares the data found during the observation, the data found from the document, and the data found from the interview. After observing the learning process, the researcher did a cross-check by comparing interview data and documents. The analysis pattern and triangulation are presented in the diagram below:

Diagram 3.1 Trustworthiness of data

H. Technique of Analysis Data

Data analysis is the process of systematically searching and preparing the data obtained from interviews, filed notes, and documentation, by way of organizing data into categories, defining in units, synthesizing, organizing into a pattern, choosing what is important and what will be studied, and make a conclusion that is easily understood by themselves and others (Sugiyono, 2010: 24). The data analysis technique of descriptive qualitative research uses interactive cycle model including data reduction, the data display and conclusion drawing/verification (Miles and Huberman in Samsu, 2017). Based on the theory above, there are three steps in analyzing the data. They are:

1. Data Reduction

Data reduction shows the process how selecting, focusing, simplifying, abstracting, and transforming the raw data that appears in the writing of field notes. Data reduction is a form of analysis that is sharp, concise, and focused, discards unimportant data, and organizes data as a way to describe and verify the conclusion. Data reduction includes data organizing activities so that it can help and facilitate researchers in conducting further analysis. The pile of data obtained in the field will be reduced by how to summarize, then classify them according to the research focus.

2. Data Display

In data display, the researcher analyzed the results of observations, interviews, and documents. Then the data will be organized and arranged in a pattern so that the data will be easy to understand.

3. Draw a Conclusion

The third step of data analysis in qualitative research is drawing conclusions or verification. After the analysis was carried out, the researcher concluded from the results of the study that answered the predetermined problem formulation. Thus, drawing conclusions and verification are analytical activities, where at the beginning of data collection, an analyst begins to decide whether something is meaningful or does not have regularity, pattern, explanations, possible configurations, causal relationships, and proposition.

CHAPTER IV

RESEARCH FINDINGS AND DISCUSSIONS

A. Findings

The findings are discussion two main parts. There are methods used by the teacher to teach speaking at twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras and the problems faced by teacher in teaching speaking at twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras. The subject was an English teacher at twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023/2024. The interview was held on Monday, 02 January 2023. The following were the result of the findings :

1. Method in teaching speaking used by English teacher at the twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras 2023/2024

1. First meeting at XII IPA 2

The researcher did the observation in the XII IPA 2 on 16 January 2023. There were some activities where the researcher joined in the classroom during the teaching-learning process.

a. Opening

First, the teacher opened the lesson by saying salam and the students answered the salam. The teacher greeted the students by asking about their conditions. It made the students by asking their conditions.

Second, the teacher checked the student's attendance. The teacher said "anyone absent today?". The student would say "Anyone absent today". If any student is absent, they will state their name.

Before going to the main activity the teacher usually gives a warning to the students. It was the way the teacher in giving motivation to the students. The teacher asked some questions to the students. She asked, "who likes to sing a song?". "Saya miss" answered the students enthusiastically.

b. Main Activity

The Teacher prepared the material about the song. The teacher would play the song "a thousand years" by Christina Perri. They sing together. Then they found a theme and the message of this song.

On this occasion, the teacher divides students into several small groups consisting of five to six students. Students must find the theme and moral values of the song "When We Are Young by Adele". Then ask students to make a good paragraph by discussing it with their group. After discussing the assignment, they will present it in front of the class.

After finishing the presentation the teacher gives a summary and detailed explanation of the material (When we were young by Adele). The teacher also provides feedback on the results of student presentations, the teacher corrects students if they make mistakes.

c. Closing

The teacher and students make conclusions from the material that has been explained. In conducting discussions, it allows students to exchange thoughts and ideas with other students. Students whose English skills are low, especially in speaking, can be assisted by other students who have higher abilities, and students whose speaking skills are higher can improve their abilities by providing explanations and helping other students. The teacher closed the lesson by asking the students to say “hamdalah”. Last, the teacher said salam and left the class.

2. Second meeting at XII IPA 1

The researcher did the observation in the XII IPA 1 on 19 January 2023. There were some activities where the researcher joined in the classroom during the teaching-learning process.

a. Opening

First the teacher opened the lesson by saying salam and the students answered the salam. The teacher greeted the students by asking their conditions. It made the students by asking their conditions. The teacher asks the students to stand together and sing the song "Indonesia Raya"

Second, the teacher checked the student’s attendance. The teacher said “anyone absent today?”. The students would say “Anyone absent today”. If any student is absent, they will state their name.

Before going to the main activity the teacher usually gives a warning to the students. It was the way the teacher in giving motivation to the students. The teacher asked some questions to the students. She asked, "who likes to sing a song?". "Saya miss" answered the students enthusiastically.

b. Main Activity

The teacher prepared the material about the song. The teacher would play the song "a thousand years" by Christina Perri. They song together. Then they found a theme and the message of this song.

On this occasion, the teacher divides students into several small groups consisting of five to six students. Students must find the theme and moral values of the song "Viva Forever by Spice Girls". Then ask students to make a good paragraph by discussing it with their group. After discussing the assignment, they will present it in front of the class.

After finishing the presentation the teacher gives a summary and detailed explanation of the material (Viva Forever by Spice Girls). The teacher also provides feedback on the results of student presentations, the teacher corrects students if they make mistakes.

c. Closing

with other students. Students whose English skills are low, especially in speaking, can be assisted by other students who have higher abilities, and students whose speaking skills are higher can improve their abilities by providing explanations and helping other students. The teacher closed the lesson by asking the students to say “hamdalah”. Last, the teacher said salam and left the class.

3. Third Meeting at XII IPA 2

The researcher did the observation in the XII IPA 2 on 18 January 2023. There were some activities where the researcher joined in the classroom during the teaching-learning process.

1. Opening

First the teacher opened the lesson by saying salam and the students answered the salam. The teacher greeted the students by asking their conditions. It made the students by asking their conditions.

Second, the teacher checked the student’s attendance. The teacher said “anyone absent today?”. The student would say “Anyone absent today”. If any student is absent, they will state their name.

Before going to the main activity the teacher usually gives a warning up to the students. It was the way the teacher in giving motivation to the students. The teacher explained the material about procedure text.

2. Main Activity

The learning process began with the teacher made a group discussion. Every group consists of 5 - 6 students. Then the teacher gave a lottery to the students. The lottery was about things like a school, house, classroom, market, etc. Then the students took the lottery randomly. If they got a school, they should look for something related to school. For example laptop. They have to make a dialogue on how to operate the laptop. Every group has to bring thing to explain the assignment. The student discussed with their group about the script and the properties.

After everything was ready, the teacher asked students to perform in front of the class. The teacher called a group of students who have been chosen to play prepared dialogue. The students was very creative. They brought a property to match with the theme.

3. Closing

The last activity is closing. Before closing the lesson, the teacher and students make conclusions from the material that has been explained. In conducting discussions, it allows students to exchange thoughts and ideas with other students. Students whose English skills are low, especially in speaking, can be assisted by other students who have higher abilities, and students whose speaking skills are higher can improve their abilities by providing explanations and helping other students. The teacher closed the lesson by asking the students to say “hamdalah”. Last, the teacher said salam and left the class.

4. Fourth Meeting at XII IPA 2

The researcher did the observation in the XII IPA 2 on 23 January 2023. There were some activities where the researcher joined in the classroom during the teaching-learning process.

a. Opening

First the teacher opened the lesson by saying salam and the students answered the salam. The teacher greeted the students by asking their conditions. It made the students by asking their conditions.

Second, the teacher checked the student’s attendance. The teacher said “anyone absent today?”. The student would say “Anyone absent today”. If any student is absent, they will state their name.

Before going to the main activity the teacher usually gives a warning up to the students. It was the way the teacher in giving motivation to the students..

b. Main Activity

The teacher asks the students to prepare for their performance. She check about their script and properties. Starting from group 1. Their theme is kitchen. Group 1 showed how to cook fried rice and how to make coffee. Riska played the role of mother.

Aldi played the role of the first child. Rahma played the role of the second child. Ifah played the role of grandmother. Rizqi played the role of father. They brought frying pan, glasses, plates, aprons and frying spatulas. They started playing their script. Starting from Rizqi who asked Aldi to make a cappuccino. They brought aqua glass Fox Glue, plain water, Baby Powder, Body Lotion, Slim Activator, Liquid Bath Soap, Food Coloring, tablespoons and slime. They played their script. They play at Asti's house. They made slime together.

C. Closing

The last activity is closing. Before closing the lesson, the teacher and students make conclusions from the material that has been explained. In conducting discussions, it allows students to exchange thoughts and ideas with other students. Students whose English skills are low, especially in speaking, can be assisted by other students who have higher abilities, and students whose speaking skills are higher can improve their abilities by providing explanations and helping other students. The teacher closed the lesson by asking the students to say "hamdalah". Last, the teacher said salam and left the class.

From the observation the researcher found that, there were two method in teaching speaking used by the English teacher at the twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras. There are discussion and role play.

Based on interview at 02 January 2023 the researcher asked the researcher asked what methods were used to teach speaking well. The teacher said that she used discussion and role play. For discussion she will divide into groups. For example, there are 32 students in a class. She will divide into 5 to 6 students where one of the children will be the leader. While for role play she will divide into groups. After that she would ask them to dialogue. The students will role-play their script.

2. The problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking methods for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2022 / 2023:

Based on the results of interviews with English teachers in class XII students of SMAN 1 Teras below are the problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking skills:

1. Low or uneven participant

Each student has a different level of speaking ability in the class. There are active students and passive students. When the teacher holds a discussion in class to discuss a topic, the teacher asks students to answer it. there were some students who actively participated in class and only a few students answered directly. But there are also students who only pay attention without participating in answering the teacher's questions. The following is the result of an interview with Mrs. S, she said:

“Terkadang waktu diskusi hanya ada beberapa siswa yang ikut aktif. Ya tapi juga ada yang cuma diam memperhatikan temennya. Kalau nggak ditunjuk siswanya gitu biasanya banyak yang pasif mbak” (The researcher interviewed with Mrs. S, 02nd January 2023)

2. Nothing to say

When the teacher asks them to speak one by one they can speak but there are some students who don't say anything but are silent. because they have no ideas to talk anymore or they are confused to express their ideas. If students have already started silence, then the teacher will ask them so they can continue their conversation, but some students just answer 'Yes' or 'No'. The following is the result of an interview with Mrs. S, she said:

“Ada berapa anak yang saat ngomong Bahasa Inggris itu malu mbak. Kadang mereka juga merasa bingung mau jawab apa. Endingnya juga jawab “Yes” or “No” aja mbak.” (The researcher interviewed with Mrs. S, 02nd January 2023)

3. Mother Tongue Use

When the learning process takes place sometimes students use their mother tongue. Even though the teacher uses English to communicate. Students use their mother tongue when they do not know English. When students start using their mother tongue, the teacher reminds them to use English again and the teacher helps them say what they mean. This is in line with the teacher's statement:

“Ya itu mbak susahnyanya itu ketika mereka tidak tahu Bahasa Inggrisnya atau mau ngomong apa mereka pasti menggunakan Bahasa Indonesia lagi. Disini mungkin saya akan mengingatkan seperti bilang ‘in English please’ supaya mereka bisa belajar ngomong Bahasa Inggris yang lancar” (The researcher interviewed with Mrs. S, 02nd January 2023)

4. Inhibition

During the learning process there were several obstacles, especially in speaking English. One of them is that students are worried about making mistakes. This makes them more silent than conveying their ideas. Although there are some students who participate actively in speaking class. Researchers observe teaching and learning process in this class and found that when the teacher gave a question or asked some students about the material, only a few students were silent. They just listen without any participation. This is in line with the teacher's statement :

“Siswa itu malu mbak untuk berbicara bahasa Inggris, meskipun mengerti tapi mereka masih takut untuk mengucapkan, dan melafalkan karena takut salah. Padahal keaktifan siswa dapat membantu saya untuk mengukur sejauh mana kemampuan mereka dengan materi yang saya ajarkan. Mereka kurang percaya diri dengan bahasa Inggris.” (The researcher interviewed with Mrs. S, 02nd January 2023).

B. Discussion

1. Method in teaching speaking used by English teacher at the twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras 2023/2024

The researcher explain the result of finding based on interview and observation. The researcher found that there were two of teacher’s method in teaching speaking used by English teacher at the twelfth grade of SMAN 1 Teras 2022/2023. The method were discussion and role play. In this section, the researcher tried to made description of the research finding with the relevant references.

a. Discussion

Based on interview and observation result, the first method that used by the English teacher in teaching speaking was group discussion. A discussion is several people consisting of more than two people who interact with each other. Discussion as an activity where a group of people talks to each other to share information about a topic and possibly find solutions (Kayi,2006).This activity aims to make the students able to work in a team and improving their skills. Group discussion composed of three to five students discussion in effective activity in improving the students ability.

Kelly, M. & Stanford (1993:10) said that group discussion could be an effective learning situation in which students learn both through instruction from their teachers and from interaction with each other. Applying a small group discussion method in teaching speaking could make students more active and enthusiastic in learning process. The researcher did the observation and the material that teacher taught in speaking skills about song. Teacher explained the material from the definition, structure and function of the songs.

After explaining the material, teacher divided the students into a small group. Every group consist of five until six students. Then, the teacher played the songs “When we were young” by Adelle. The teacher gave an opportunity to discuss theme and moral value of the songs. Last, students presented the result of discuss in front of the class.

b. Role-play

Based on interview and observation result, the second method that used by the English teacher in teaching speaking was role play. Role play is students' simulation of a real life encounter as if they were doing it in the real world, either as themselves in the encounter or on a plane or taking on the role of a character different from themselves (Harmer 2003: 352).

The researcher did the observation and the material that teacher taught in speaking skills about procedure text. Teacher explained the material from the definition, structure and function of the procedure text. After explaining the material, teacher divided the students into a small group. Every group consist of five until six students.

The teacher gave a lottery to the students. The lottery was about things like a school, house, classroom, market,etc. Then the students took the lottery randomly. If they got a school, they should look for something related to school. For example laptop.They have to make a dialogue on how to operate the laptop. Every group has to bring thing to explain the assignment. The student discussed with their group about the script and the properties. After everything was ready, the teacher asked students to perform iin front of the class. The teacher called a group of students who have been chosen to play prepared dialogue. The students was very creative. They brought a property to match with the theme.

From the observation and theories are same. The teacher used role play method to teach speaking. Using the role-play technique can be very useful in teaching speaking. Through role playing techniques, teachers can train students in speaking skills in any situation. This explanation makes us understand that the role playing technique is very flexible. Teachers can arrange material outside of students and they can learn from the material provided. In addition, role-playing techniques give them an opportunity to learn English. This is a very useful dress rehearsal for real life. This allows them to learn not only to derive set phrases, but to learn how interactions can occur in various situations. It is very helpful for them to try and experiment in the language they need in a friendly and safe classroom environment.

Role playing can also increase students' self-confidence. He can help shy students by giving them masks. Shy students will be given the opportunity to speak and act like the others. They will be asked to participate to class. Thus, they no longer feel that their personality is involved. As a result, students will understand what is expected of them.

2.	Choose a situation and create a dialogue	v

2. The problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking methods for the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2022 / 2023:

Based on the results of interviews with English teachers in class XII students of SMAN 1 Teras below are the problems faced by teachers in teaching speaking skills:

1. Low or uneven participant

According to Ur(1996:21), in one group Only one participant can speak at one time. this means that each has little time to talk. This problem is exacerbated by the tendency of some students to dominate, while others speak very or not at all.

Based on interview, each student has a different level of speaking ability in the class. There are active students and passive students. When the teacher holds a discussion in class to discuss a topic, the teacher asks students to answer it. there were some students who actively participated in class and only a few students answered directly. But there are also students who only pay attention without participating in answering the teacher's questions.

2. Nothing to say

According to Ur (1996:21), Learners complain that they can't explain anything to say, they have no motive to express themselves.

Based on interview, when the teacher asks them to speak one by one they can speak but there are some students who don't say anything but are silent. because they have no ideas to talk anymore or they are confused to express their ideas. If students have already started silence, then the teacher will ask them so they can continue their conversation, but some students just answer 'Yes' or 'No'.

3. Mother Tongue Use

According to Ur (1996:21), in classrooms where all, or some, learners use the same mother tongue, they are more likely to use it. Because it's easier to be "exposed" and feel unnatural to speak in a foreign language.

Based on interviews when the learning process takes place sometimes students use their mother tongue. Even though the teacher uses English to communicate. Students use their mother tongue when they do not know English. When students start using their mother tongue, the teacher reminds them to use English again and the teacher helps them say what they mean.

4. Inhibition

According to Ur (1996:121), Speaking is different from writing, reading, and listening activities. Because speaking requires a real-time level of exposure to the audience. Students are often inhibited from trying to say something in English. These barriers are shyness, fear of criticism, and fear of making mistakes to attract attention when they speak.

Based on the interviews, there were several obstacles in the learning process, especially in speaking English. One of them is that students are worried about making mistakes. This makes them more silent than conveying their ideas. Although there are some students who participate actively in speaking class. Researchers observe teaching and learning process in this class and found that when the teacher gave a question or asked some students about the material, only a few students were silent. They just listen without any participation.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents conclusions and suggestion related to what the researcher analyzed and discussed.

A. CONCLUSION

The method that are used in teaching speaking to eleventh grade students SMAN 1 Teras 2023/2024 are discussion and role play. They are opening, main activity, and closing. There were two method in teaching speaking used by the English teacher at the twelfth grade at SMAN 1 Teras. They are discussion and role-play. They used this method can improve the student ability to speak English because they are always practice and speaking. The students' response towards these method are well.

The second is the problem faced by teacher in the teaching learning process. There are : 1) low or uneven participant, 2) nothing to say, 3) mother tongue use, 4) inhibition. First, there is low or uneven participant. There were some students who actively participated in the class. Only a few students answered directly. Second, there is nothing to say. The students have already started silence because they have no ideas to talk anymore or they are confused to express their ideas. Third, there is mother tongue use. Students used their mother tongue when they did not know English. Last, there is inhibition. One of them is that the students are worried about making mistakes. It makes them more silent than conveying ideas.

B. SUGGESTION

After the researcher draws the conclusion on teachers' methods in teaching speaking skills among the twelfth-grade students of SMAN 1 Teras in the academic year 2023/2024, the researcher is going to present the suggestion to the teacher and other researchers dealing with the teaching-learning process of reading comprehension.

1. For the teacher

- a. Teachers must be able to make students learn actively, especially in practice in class.
- b. The teacher must try to use the target language in delivering the material, so that students can use English actively.
- c. The teacher must create a warm atmosphere in the process of teaching speaking as comfortable as possible to support the process.
- d. Teachers should be more creative and interesting in teaching.

2. For Students

The students should have high-confidence in teaching learning process especially in speaking class. They do not have to be afraid and shy to making mistakes when they speak up.

3. For Other Researcher

The researcher realizes that this research is not perfect. There are still many weaknesses related to theory or methods due to limited research capabilities. He also understands that this research paper makes little contribution to the teaching and learning of speaking skills. Other researchers might be able to develop this research that is suitable for students to provide a new dimension in the world of education. However, the researcher believes that this research will be useful and this research can be used as a reference in the same field, especially teaching speaking skills.

1. Interview With Teacher 02 January 2023

R : Researcher

T : Teacher

R : Assalamualaikum, miss. Mohon maaf mengganggu waktunya sebentar. Saya Arina Sabila Haq mahasiswi UIN Raden Mas Said yang sedang melaksanakan penelitian di SMAN 1 Teras mengenai metode yang miss pakai saat mengajar kelas speaking.

T : Waalaikumsallam mbak. Monggo mbak apa yang mau ditanyakan.

R : Sebelumnya ada berapa guru Bahasa Inggris di sekolah ini miss?

T : ada 4 mbak. Saya sendiri, pak Badrun, Miss rini sama Miss Ida.

R : Kalau miss sendiri mengajar kelas berapa nggih?

T : Kalau saya sendiri mengajar kelas XI IPS dan XII IPA mbak.

R : Untuk kelas XII nya miss mengajar kelas berapa miss ?

T : Untuk kelas XII nya saya mengajar kelas XII IPA 1 dan XII IPA 2 mbak.

R : Baik miss. Metode apa yang sering miss pakai saat mengajar terutama dalam meningkatkan kemampuan speaking siswa?

T : Teknik yang sering saya gunakan itu discussion sama role play mbak. Karena kedua teknik itu dapat membuat siswa lebih mudah paham saat belajar.

Apalagi kalau role play kadang ada aja tingkah unik siswa saat memerankan sebuah peran.

R : Baik miss. Untuk masalah yang miss hadapi saat mengajar itu apa saja miss?

T : Kalau masalahnya ada lumayan banyak mbak. Soalnya kan yang saya ajar banyak dan mereka memiliki karakter yang berbeda-beda. Terkadang waktu diskusi hanya ada beberapa siswa yang ikut aktif. Ya tapi juga ada yang cuma diam memperhatikan temennya. Kalau nggak ditunjuk siswanya gitu biasanya banyak yang pasif mbak. Kalau enggak ada berapa anak yang saat ngomong Bahasa Inggris itu malu mbak. Kadang mereka juga merasa bingung mau jawab apa. Endingnya juga jawab “Yes” or “No” aja mbak.

R : Lalu, bagaimana cara berbicara di kelas miss? Apakah miss menggunakan untuk berbicara Bahasa Inggris atau Bahasa Indonesia?

T : Kalau saya sendiri waktu ngajar saya usahakan full Bahasa Inggris. Tapi untuk anak-anak ya itu mbak susahya itu ketika mereka tidak tahu Bahasa Inggrisnya atau mau ngomong apa mereka pasti menggunakan Bahasa Indonesia lagi. Disini mungkin saya akan mengingatkan seperti bilang ‘in English please’ supaya mereka bisa belajar ngomong Bahasa Inggris yang lancar.

R : Tapi apakah mereka lancar saat berbicara Bahasa Inggris miss?

T : Ya ada yang lancar ada yang enggak. Siswa itu malu mbak untuk berbicara bahasa Inggris, meskipun mengerti tapi mereka masih takut untuk mengucapkan, dan melafalkan karena takut salah. Padahal keaktifan siswa dapat membantu saya untuk mengukur sejauh mana kemampuan mereka dengan materi yang saya ajarkan. Mereka kurang percaya diri dengan bahasa Inggris

R : Baik miss, saya kira cukup sekian dulu interviewnya. Terimakasih atas bantuan dan waktunya miss

T : Iya mbak. Sama-sama mbak

R : Asalamualaikum miss

T : Waalaikumsallam mbak

Di bagian yang kedua, diharuskan untuk menulis ingredients/material. Penulisan ingredients/material ini berguna untuk menjelaskan apa saja bahan-bahan atau alat yang digunakan untuk membuat sesuatu dalam procedure text tersebut. Sedangkan di bagian akhir, yaitu penulisan steps/methods (langkah/metode). Bagian ini berisi tentang langkah-langkah apa saja yang dilakukan untuk mencapai tujuan dari procedure text. Untuk language features nya silahkan kalian pelajari di ppt. Do you understand ?

SS : yes, miss.

.....Students choose their groups.....

T : Apakah sudah semua?

SS : Sudah miss

T : Oke saya akan menjelaskan rulunya. Setiap kelompok akan mengambil undian yang ada di depan saya ini. Setiap kertas ini akan memberikan clue, kemudian kalian akan membuat dialog berdasarkan clue tersebut. Contoh : house. Kalian bisa membuat dialog tentang bagaimana cara membuat nasi goreng. Nah, serunya disini kalian akan memainkan sebuah peran. Ada yang berperan sebagai ibunya, mbahnya, adeknya, suaminya atau tetangganya. Terserah sesuai imajinasi kalian yang penting mengandung langkah – langkah melakukan sesuatu.

S : Apakah harus memakai alat peraga miss ?

T : Boleh kalau bisa

S : Dialognya apa harus Bahasa inggris

T : Iya to le. Kamu kan pelajarannya Bahasa inggris. Ada pertanyaan?

SS : Tidak miss

T : Baik, silahkan salah satu perwakilan maju kedepan untuk mengambil undiannya.

.....Student take the lottery.....

T : Kelompok 1 dapat apa?

S : School miss

T : Kelompok 2?

S : Bedroom miss

T : Kelompok 3?

S : Canteen miss.

T : Kelompok 4?

S : Ricefield miss

T : Kelompok 5?

 How many times I've seen
 Tears coming from your blue eyes
 Rain and tears all the same
 But in the sun you've got to play the game
 Give an answer of love I need an answer of love

Contoh Soal Song 3

Viva Forever

Song by: Spice Girls

Do you still remember

How we used to be
 Felling together, believe in whatever
 My love has said to me
 Both of us were dreamers
 Young love in the sun
 Felt like my savior, my spirit I gave ya
 We'd only just begun

Hasta Manana,

Always be mine

[Chorus:]

Viva forever, I'll be waiting
 Everlasting, like the sun
 Live forever,
 For the moment
 Ever searching for the one
 Yes I still remember,
 Every whispered word
 The touch of your skin, giving life from within
 Like a love song that I'd heard
 Slipping through out fingers,
 Like the sands of time
 Promise made, every memory saved
 Has reflections in my mind

Hasta Manana,

Always be mine

[Chorus]

Back where I belong now,
 Was it just a dream
 Feelings unfold, they will never be sold
 And the secret's safe with me

Hasta manana,

Always be mine

[Chorus x2]
