Reviewer A:

this article discussed an interesting topic and the discussion is quite detail. However, the issues or aspects of this title have not been explained well. The English need major edits. Furthermore, the analysis is not deep. The relation between ethnics, religious groups and economic powers are not deeply explored. The abstract does not yet contain important elements of the research background, method and findings. The article does not elaborate the methodology of the study and review any previous relevant studies. As consequence, the paper does not show yet its contribution and novelty.

Recommendation: Decline Submission

Reviewer B:

The study promotes a very interesting topic and shows sufficient data in detail. So, the data are explored sufficiently and deeply. However, the study does not explain how the data were gathered. In other words, the method of the study has not been discussed clearly. The paper does not explain theories used to interpret the data. Besides problems on technical terms, especially the English, it lacks of attention to on the methodology and theory. Decisions: Accepted with revisions
